Welcome to the world of Foodbanking! Thanks for expressing an interest in volunteering at Shared Harvest Foodbank and helping us battle hunger right here at home.

First, a word about us: Shared Harvest began in 1983, collecting wholesome surplus food and other grocery style products, donated by the food industry; and distributing these donations to charities which provide either hot meals or bags of groceries to people in need in a five-county area in Southwest Ohio. In addition, we also have two direct service programs that help feed children PreK-6th grade – The Backpack Program and seniors 60 yrs and older, The CSF Program

We have several different ways you can engage as a volunteer. There are four standard projects and a variety of special projects throughout the year. You can also raise your voice as an advocate for not just Shared Harvest Foodbank but for the 1 in 6 Ohioans our network serves.

BackPack Program

This program provides weekend bags of food for children living in severe food insecure homes. Your role would be to help pack bags based on a rotating 4-week menu and/or packed completed bags into boxes for distribution.

CSF Program

This program helps our older population live healthier, independent lives by providing a dependable source of nutritious food, providing their bodies with the fuel it needs to be less prone to common illnesses which often requires a much more expensive medical intervention. Your role would be to help build the boxes and/or pack them with product based on a monthly prescribed menu.

Evaluate, Sort & Repack Various Sources of Donated Product

Almost daily, Shared Harvest employees are visiting local retailers to rescue perishable food items such as fresh meat that is still safe to consume but can not be sold in the stores. Additionally, we will receive frequent donations from national donors such as Nabisco and Kellogg, where the product is a hodgepodge of items. Your role is to evaluate the donated product, sort out any that is not safe for consumption, and pack into boxes for easier distribution to local hunger relief charities.

Assemble Mailings:

We have four quarterly mailings, one holiday direct mailing and our annual report that we send out each year. This is a fairly easy sit-down work where you would be assembling these mailings in an office environment. Great opportunity to meet new friends or catch up with old ones.

Special Projects & Advocacy:

To learn more about how you can volunteer with projects that take you out into the community or how to be a voice for our neediest neighbors, please contact Sarah Ormbrek at 513-874-0114 or sarah@sharedharvest.org.

Please be sure to fill all appropriate fields on the application. Don't worry about signing it, you can do that on your first visit. Once we have the completed application, you will begin receiving our volunteer schedule about mid-month before the month we are in the process of scheduling. Just click on the sign up at the end of the email and let us know which dates/shifts you want and we will confirm that you are on the schedule for the days/times you requested – or if alternatives are available if the shifts you wanted are full.

Thank you for caring enough to make a difference.
